QUALITY PRODUCTS, EXCEPTIONAL SERVICES

Rumsey offers a comprehensive family of Power Transmission (PT) products to keep our customers' operations running productively and profitably. We carry the top PT brands and apply our expertise to decrease downtime, improve safety, reduce maintenance costs, and help our customers explore ways to improve how they run their business.

Rumsey's sales and specialists teams are known for exceptional service and support. We believe that providing excellent service is a combination of streamlined procedures, effective communication, preparation and planning. We employ these fundamentals to provide the value-based services our customers have come to depend on – every time – all the time.

ABOUT RUMSEY

Rumsey is the tri-state's largest full-service independent electrical, automation and power transmission product and services distributor serving the construction, industrial, original equipment manufacturer (OEM), utility, institutional, and commercial markets.

Rumsey acquired TECO (Transmission Engineering Co.) in mid-2015. The acquisition complements Rumsey's electrical, automation and motion control business by expanding its mechanical power transmission products and services offerings.
